

GOVERNOR BARBOUR URGES VOTERS TO SUPPORT GOP CANDIDATES

Southaven, Miss. – In a campaign stop at the DeSoto County Wicker for Senate headquarters here today Governor Haley Barbour urged Mississippi voters to cast ballots for GOP candidates running in tomorrow's general election.

Barbour touted the experience and qualifications of the Republican candidates for state and national offices, including Presidential nominee John McCain, Sen. Thad Cochran, Sen. Roger Wicker, and First Congressional District candidate Greg Davis.

"Mississippians in the First Congressional District, like elsewhere in Mississippi, are fortunate to have candidates with strong conservative values who can ably represent their interests in our nation's capital and The White House," Governor Barbour said. "It is critical that conservatives turn out in large numbers tomorrow."
